The inflation in this month was mainly contributed by increasing in foodstuffs price and transportation cost (airfares). In the Board of Governors' Meeting on 24th and 25th April 2019, Bank Indonesia kept the BI 7-day Reverse Repo Rate unchanged on 6.00%, while also maintaining the Deposit Facility (DF) and Lending Facility (LF) rates at 5.25% and 6.75% respectively. Indonesia's trade balance recorded surplus amounting to USD +0.540bn in March 2019 vs previous month surplus USD +0.330bn. The surplus was caused by increment surplus in export for non-oil and gas commodities on the back of higher of export of coal, iron & steel, and minerals. Non-oil and gas trade balance in March 2019 recorded surplus USD 0.989bn, better than the previous month which was surplus amounting to USD 0.793bn. Meanwhile, oil and gas trade balance recorded deficit to USD -0.448bn in March 2019, slightly better than deficit on February 2019 amounting to USD -0.465bn. The deficit was caused by increasing of crude oil import. Indonesia's economy grew as 5.07% yoy in 1Q 2019 (vs previous 5.18%, consensus 5.12%), and -0.52% qoq (vs previous -1.69%, consensus -0.42%). This quarter growth was slower than 4Q 2018. This slowing down was affected by slowing down in private consumption and gross fixed capital formation (affected by lower in investment). Each of it grew lower than previous quarter, private consumption grew 5.01% from 5.08% and gross fixed capital formation grew 5.03% from 6.01%.

The stock market had moved positively in mid-April, which was driven by positive presidential election result. However, post-election, investors took profit which pressured the stock market during month end. Lackluster of positive catalyst in domestic data and results also pressured the market to sell-off. External factors wise, strengthening US economic data which was above market expectation had also triggered the emerging market currencies weaker, IDR was no exception, where it weakened to IDR 14,215/USD. In summary, despite the election results were in line with market expectations, investors became more cautious as we go into the 2H19 where economic data were benign and will begin to trickle down towards corporate earnings.
